COMLUX PRESS RELEASE

Zurich 20 May 2019

COMLUX CONFIRMS ITS EXPERTISE IN THE BUSINESS JET SEGMENT

Comlux is pleased to announce the sale of one Global 7500 and one Challenger 650 with two different customers, as well as the signing of a contract for Aircraft Management and Operation for the Challenger 650. Both transactions have been performed by Comlux Transactions, the aircraft sales, acquisition & consulting branch of the Comlux Group

The Global 7500, belonging to the Comlux portfolio, was sold to an undisclosed customer in the United States and is due for delivery in 2020.

For the Challenger 650, Comlux Transactions has assisted its customer in the acquisition phase of the brand-new aircraft from the manufacturer Bombardier. The aircraft entered into service earlier in May with Comlux Aviation, the VIP operations division of the Comlux Group. The arrival of the aircraft based in Russia, and operated under Comlux Malta EASA AOC, increases the existing Comlux fleet of business jets and consolidates the extensive experience Comlux has on Bombardier operations since its creation in 2003.

Richard Gaona Executive Chairman and CEO of Comlux says " I am very pleased with the development of our activities in the business jet segment." He added, " Comlux is better known for its reputation and expertise in the market of the very large cabin long-haul VIP aircraft with Airbus and Boeing products. Today, we demonstrate to our customers that we are performing as well in the business jet segment by operating and selling more jets of this category. I strongly believe that our swiss-made, world-class service will attract more aircraft owners and buyers willing to have their aviation needs managed professionally and personally."
